Dear Friends,

I am very proud and truly blessed to be a part of reaching out to other cultures of the world, thereby increasing global awareness and enriching the future of tomorrow for you, the prospective USA Program Participant.

Over the past thirty years, I have traveled all over the world and throughout the United States. Based on the educational and cultural knowledge/skills that I gained, I founded and created an international student program, The USA Program, designed to help you best achieve your goals.

The “USA Program Private School Guidebook” was created to provide you with some American Private School profiles and to help guide you through the process of choosing/determining which American Private School will best meet your desires. The Private School chosen should challenge you to achieve your academic goals.

Our slogan, “Tomorrow Begins Today”, is intended to encourage you to begin your academic and cultural journey by “Stepping into the Future” TODAY and making a decision about where you would like to live and study in the United States of America.

The USA Program is based on:

Experience -As a boy in Brazil, I had dreams to come to America - the land of opportunity. This dream was realized as a young man in 1987. Since then, I have become an American citizen, husband, and father. My own intercultural experience has equipped me with a unique perspective of cultural understanding that I share with all USA Program participants to help them adjust to their new environment. I first began working with an international student organization in 1990 and have been placing international students since then. I have been involved in every aspect of the international student recruitment and placement process, and I will confidently help you achieve success.

Vision - My main goal is to reach the young generation by providing excellent educational opportunities with nurturing/caring living environments through daily cultural immersion. Future leaders must have an international/global perspective of the world. You are our leaders of tomorrow.

Commitment - I pledge to instruct, guide, lead, and help you with the utmost integrity throughout your stay with the USA Program in the United States of America.

Life is a journey. Please bravely engage your dreams and embark on your new and exciting adventure to the United States of America by making a decision TODAY. I will see you soon.

Sincerely,

Moacir Rodrigues

Because of the vast size and cultural diversity of the United States of America, USA Program has divided the continental United States (48 States) into five (5) regions in order to make the Intl. Students/ Natural Parents' choice of private school placement simple and more convenient.

USA Program advises the Intl. Students/Natural Parents to first, decide on one region; second, choose a state(s); and, finally, select 3 or more private schools of your preference.

The final decision regarding the acceptance/placement of the intl. students into their preferred private school will be at the discretion of the private school official(s). The decision will be based on availability and qualifications (the intl. students must meet all of the schools' requirements).

Tuition Rates and Intl. Student Acceptance Requirements are subject to change without further notice.*

EAST COAST

The Northeast Region of the United States is the oldest region and varies from the largest city (New York City) to the smallest state (Rhode Island). This area is rich with history, culture and economic opportunities.

In Northeastern United States, you will find 12 states: New York, Massachusetts, Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, and Delaware.

Major cities include New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and many others. The nation's capital, Washington, D.C., is also a part of the Northeast.

The region of the Northeast is unique in that weather occurring around much of the country eventually makes its way there. Because of the dominant southwest to northeasterly flow of the jet stream, storm events—hurricanes, nor'easters, mid-latitude cyclones, Alberta clippers—commonly combine with tropical, polar, and arctic air masses from northern and southern regions, affecting portions of the Northeast. Northeast is home to cold winters, and cool summers.

The region accounts for approximately 25% of U.S. gross domestic products. The total population for this area is a little over 55 million people.

Christian Heritage School

SCHOOL PROFILE

Christian Heritage School was founded in 1976 by a small committee of people who had been meeting regularly and praying about the possibility of quality Christian education in the Bridgeport area. Through the generosity and vision of the Heritage Foundation, Inc., represented on that original committee, building plans were drawn and ground was broken on December 18, 1976. Christian Heritage opened its doors to its first 53 students, grades K-6, on September 6, 1977, and moved into its new facility in January 1978. By 1981-82 the school had grown to over 275 students, grades K-10. At present, CHS has approximately 455 students in the school population, representing 43 different communities and approximately 100 churches. The school graduated its first senior class in June 1984 and currently has over 800 alumni from 28 graduating classes.

Chapelgate Christian Academy

SCHOOL PROFILE

For many years before the opening of Chapelgate Christian Academy, members of Chapelgate Presbyterian Church prayed for a Christian school ministry in the church. The school opened in 1991 on the current site of 63 acres. Seventy five students in grades 6-9 pioneered our inaugural year under the leadership of Dr. James DiVirgilio. The following year, 150 students in grades 6-10 were enrolled in the academy and a new headmaster, Mr. Rob Van Ness, joined us. Grades 11 and 12 were added in the two subsequent years with a continued increase in enrollment. On June 5, 1995, we held the first commencement exercises. All sixteen graduates went on to enroll in colleges and universities. Now in our nineteenth year, CCA ministers to more than 450 students in grades 6-12.

BOSTON TRINITY ACADEMY

SCHOOL PROFILE

Through the vision and efforts of dedicated Boston area leaders in the spheres of finance, education, and faith, Boston Trinity Academy opened its doors in September 2002. These founders shared a common goal to address one of the greatest needs for the young people of Boston — a rigorous college preparatory school founded on the principles of the Christian faith that is accessible to students from all neighborhoods, ethnicities and socioeconomic backgrounds. In 2002, Boston Trinity Academy launched with 54 students in grades 6-9 in a rented school building on Beacon Street in Brookline. Adding a grade each year the school soon grew to 125 students, and in June 2006, the first senior class of 16 graduated — all college bound. In September of that year, the school purchased its own facility and moved to an expansive five-acre campus in Boston's Hyde Park neighborhood. During the current 2011-2012 school year, 235 students attend Boston Trinity Academy.

Whether through gender-divided classes or inter-disciplinary courses, we strive to provide the best learning environment for our students. Academic achievement is predicated upon the single most essential resource a great school has, the quality and dedication of its teachers. Our mission-driven faculty double as coaches, advisors, set designers, choir directors and trip leaders. But even more essential is our belief that every student be known, loved, respected and challenged. This is supported by our commitment to a 10 to 1 student-teacher ratio and an average class size of 15.

ACADEMICS:

Our high school is a place where a student can prepare for college while cultivating, as a follower of Christ, a Biblical mind set and a compassionate heart. Most of our students go on to college but, regardless of their next step, it is our desire that they develop the skills to think clearly and godly so that, in whatever they put their hand to, God is glorified. Students attend weekly chapel, have biweekly peer groups, a two-night retreat, and required service hours all designed to help them grow as Christians. Our teachers are born-again believers who pray for and with our students. Our classes are scripturally integrated because truth consists of both natural (creation) and special (Bible) revelation. We offer sports, drama, and art to those so inclined because these disciplines are given by God and reflect His nature. We are a Christian school seeking to educate the whole person because the whole person is made by God. “Come and see,” as Jesus said to those who asked Him where He was staying, so that you might know better, who we truly are as a Christian school

At your Service!

Uncle Sam, better known from United States recruiting posters, is a patriotic, American icon.

Who is Uncle Sam and what are his origins? One clue to Uncle Sam's identity is his initials, U.S. A story says that during the War of 1812, a Sam Wilson was the meat supplier for the United States Army. Wilson marked U.S. on his meat barrels to show who the meat belonged to, but the soldiers referred to the meat man as Uncle Sam. This story is really not confirmable, but there is an Uncle Sam Memorial Statue in Arlington, Massachusetts in honor of Sam Wilson. The reason USA Program uses Uncle Sam's image is because of the significance of its meaning as an American icon recruiting young men and women to fight for freedom and democracy.

"USA Program recruits International Students to positively impact our community and world."

Some benefits of Private Schools in the US:

1. USA Program closely monitors our intl. students in a more controlled environment.
2. Private Day Schools provide a better, more structured level of education; better teaching and instruction; smaller class sizes for more personal attention; and teacher and student ratio is far lower than public schools.
3. Private Day School participants are offered a chance to complete their entire American high school education in one place/school.
4. Private Day Schools have far higher standards when it comes to college/university preparation. Statistics show that private school students achieve higher at the post-secondary level.

Here is some information about the F-1 VISA (International Student Visa):

1. The process for obtaining an F-1 Visa is simple. The intl. student must go to their home country U.S. Embassy in order to apply/interview with a consulate official and prove financial stability and that they will return to their home country after the study is complete
2. When the intl. student obtains an F-1 Visa, they can stay in the U.S. Private High School for up to four years, depending on the grade level at which they enter the school. After graduating high school, the transfer to go to a College or University is very simple. The F-1 Visa is good for as long as the intl. student is studying in a SEVIS approved school. (Up to 12 years)
3. When the intl. students have an F-1 Visa, they are allowed to travel back and forth to their home countries when they choose to without re-applying for another Visa. Example: New Year, Christmas, Summer Break, etc.....

Local Area

The Town of Huntington was founded in 1653, and the area to the north of Half Way Hollow was first referred to as "dicke pechegans" in 1689, marking the area where Dick Pechagan, an indigenous person from one of the local tribes, had his wigwam and his planting fields. Over the years this name was shortened and changed to "Dick's Hills," and although a few old records do use that spelling, it quickly became even easier to just spell "Dix." While Half Hollow Hills marks the hills located halfway between the sound and Ocean, Dix Hills marks the hills that belonged to a man named Dick.

Their vision has endured, and is very much a reality here at SBS today. This is not to say that we are not committed to a high standard of excellence in classroom teaching—quite the opposite. Instead, our rich and textured classroom learning experiences serve as a jumping off point in our "whole student" approach to education. When they graduate from SBS, 100% of our students go on to college--many to the best schools in the nation. But what's more, they are equipped to lead and to serve with character and integrity.

One of the singular attractions of Troy is its sense of community, something sadly lacking in the impersonal suburbs and the anonymous big cities. A good part of TROY, NY's rich community derives from its size and its shape. With just under fifty thousand people, it contains just enough different faces to make life interesting, but not enough to make chance encounters with friends on the city streets a rarity. Because it is nestled between a waterfront and a bluff only a handful of blocks apart, and because it has not lost its nineteenth-century infrastructure, it still has the feel of what urban historians call the “walking city.”

Local Area

Maspeth is old-school Queens at its best, a neighborhood of families, small shops, and restaurants. Residential Maspeth is on the Maspeth Plateau, the last high ground in western Queens, with great views of Manhattan's skyline, but the city feels a world away from homey Grand Avenue's Polish delis and Irish bars. Maspeth's main drag is Grand Avenue, and its core is where Grand meets 69th Avenue, just off the LIE. This commercial heart extends several blocks along Grand, north and south of the LIE, which cuts Maspeth in half.

SCHOOL PROFILE

PMCA is an accredited, independent, co-educational, college preparatory school located in suburban Philadelphia which serves approximately 350 students enrolled in Pre-K through grade 12. Our mission is to provide excellent academic education from a consistent Christian world-and-life view for the children in Christian families. In some ways there have been many changes over the years. Locations, size of school, faculty members, Board leadership, and certainly tuition, among many other things, have changed over those years. What has also changed is our culture and community. Compared to the days of our inception the world is in a technological, social, and political whirlwind of fast-paced change. In the midst of such change Phil-Mont continues its commitment and effectiveness of partnering with parents in educating our children regarding the person, power, and purposes of God in and through all that He has made.

North Hills Christian School

SCHOOL PROFILE

North Hills Christian School was established in 1972 in the Mt. Nebo area as a ministry of Allegheny Baptist Temple. Its goal was to provide solid academic training in a traditional education, emphasizing Christian principles and character. The school began offering just grade one through six and began the year with just sixteen students meeting in the basement of a 125 year old church building. Even though we only had sixteen high school students, four high school staff members, and limited facilities, we were able to provide Christian families with a quality option to the humanist and relativist philosophies that were prevalent in many of the area public schools. Since that time, hundreds of graduates have moved on to colleges and careers, well prepared for the opportunities and challenges that God has presented.

Mount St. Joseph Academy

SCHOOL PROFILE

Mount Saint Joseph Academy, located in Flourtown, Pennsylvania, has been preparing generations of young women for the challenges of college and life since 1858. Founded by the Sisters of Saint Joseph, the academy was located in Philadelphia on the grounds of what is now Chestnut Hill College. Originally a boarding school, the academy accepted day students in 1911. In 1928, it was the first Catholic school to be approved by the Middle States Association accrediting agency. In response to the growth of the school and evolving educational needs, the Mount moved in 1961 to its present site situated on 78 acres, just outside the community of Chestnut Hill, an urban village with a cultural life of its own and ready access to downtown Philadelphia. The new home of the academy expanded three times, adding additional classrooms and computer labs for student use.

Timberlake Christian School

SCHOOL PROFILE

Timberlake Christian Schools was founded in 1966 as a ministry of Timberlake Baptist Church. The school began with just a preschool. Its first senior class finished in 1979 with 14 graduates. It was the intention of the founders that a school should be created that would be thoroughly Christian; minister to Christian families; present a strong academic program; maintain high professional standards; provide proper facilities; create a base for evangelism; and motivate students toward Christian service. Now, 40 years later, TCS has an enrollment of over 400 students at its two campuses. Ninety-five percent of our graduates go on to college, well above the national average. Most importantly, young people are being trained for service to Christ.

SOUTH

The South Region of the United States of America is located in the Southeast Region of the country. Everyone defines the South Region differently. The South Region of the United States is home to the oldest permanent settlement, and has played an important part in the history of our nation. It hosts endangered animals, the largest known cave system, and the largest granite sculpture carved on a mountain. We define the South Region by 7 states. Florida, Alabama, South Carolina and Georgia are 4 of the 7 original states. Georgia is the largest state in the South. Florida, however, has the most people. The remaining states in this region are: Mississippi, North Carolina, and Tennessee. It is one of the most populous regions in the United States of America. With over 18 million people, Florida is the most populous of the states. It is followed by Georgia, with over 9.8 million residents, and followed closely behind by North Carolina with over 9.6 million people. Jacksonville, Charlotte, and Memphis are the largest cities in the region by city-proper population, however, Miami, Atlanta, Orlando, and Tampa are the most populous metropolitan areas in the region. The Southeastern United States is home to a number of prominent universities, with several large research universities of longstanding significance (such as University of Georgia, Georgia State University, Emory University, Georgia Institute of Technology, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Duke University, Wake Forest University, and so forth). Major cities in the South include Jacksonville, FL, Charlotte, N.C., Memphis, TN, Nashville, TN, Atlanta, GA, Miami, FL, Raleigh, N.C., and Tampa, FL. You will find anything and everything in the South Region of the United States. Everything from shopping, entertainment, parks, beaches, Disney World, and much more.

MIDWEST

Traditional definitions of the Midwest include the Northwest Ordinance “Old Northwest” states and many states that were part of the Louisiana Purchase. The states of the Old Northwest are also known as “Great Lakes states”. Many of the Louisiana Purchase states are also known as “Great Plains states”. The region consists of 10 states in the north-central and north-eastern United States: Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin. The population for the Midwest Region in 2010 was just above 65 million people. Chicago is the largest city in the region, followed by Indianapolis, Columbus, Detroit, and Milwaukee. The vast central area of the U.S., into Canada, is a landscape of low, flat to rolling terrain in the Interior Plains. Most of its eastern two-thirds form the Interior Lowlands. The Lowlands gradually rise westward, from a line passing through eastern Kansas, up to 5,000+ feet in the unit known as the Great Plains). Much of the Plains are now converted land use-wise to farming. The U.S. Census Bureau further divides the Midwest into two distinct regions, the East North Central “Great Lakes States,” which include Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota (Midwestern states that come in contact with a Great Lake), and the West North Central “Great Plains States,” which include Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska (states that are located within the Great Plains region of the country). Midwesterners are praised as being open, friendly, and straightforward. Their politics tend to be cautious, but the caution is sometimes peppered with protest. The Midwest gave birth to one of America’s two major political parties, the Republican Party, which was formed in the 1850s to oppose the spread of slavery into new states. The region’s hub is Chicago, Illinois, the nation’s third largest city. This major Great Lakes port is a connecting point for rail lines and air traffic to far-flung parts of the nation and the world. At its heart stands the Sears Tower, at 447 meters, one of the world’s tallest buildings.

Cornerstone Christian Academy

SCHOOL PROFILE

Cornerstone Christian Academy was founded in 1976 to provide a comprehensive, Christ-centered education presented within a classical format. A classical format recognizes that children of different age groups learn in different ways. CCA's learning strategies vary according to the grade level, young children learn by memorization of relevant facts (grammar stage), middle aged children are encouraged to synthesize new ideas from the factual base they have in place (logic stage), and older students are expected to combine given ideas and synthesize new ideas, including the process of critiquing and correcting given concepts (rhetoric stage). Cornerstone employs this classical model in all areas of its comprehensive curriculum, which consists of reading and literature, language arts, mathematics, science, history, and foreign languages, all being presented in a biblical, Christ-centered context.

Sycamore is the embodiment of classic small town Mid-America, a place where smiles are a way of life. Sycamore has its origins in a claim established on the north bank of the East Branch of the Kishwaukee River, which was then called the Sycamore River, in 1835. As at the turn of the nineteenth century, the geographic, political, and social center of Sycamore remains the courthouse, central business district, and nearby historic homes. In no small way, the historic architecture and walkable business district convey a gracious charm that fits a popular image of the ideal small town. As of the 2005 Special Census, Sycamore has grown to a population of 14,900.

The teachers at Liberty Christian School use texts from ABeka, Prentice-Hall, ACSI, and various other publishers both Christian and secular. Secular textbooks are used after carefully evaluating them to make sure they are not in conflict with the truths of God's Word. When secular textbooks are selected, great care is taken to ensure that the subject matter is thoroughly integrated into the truths of Scripture. Monthly Report for Natural Parents

Each month USA Program communicates with all of our intl. students, host families, private schools, and Local Representatives by sending monthly evaluation reports to find out how the experience is going. Several different aspects of the experience will be evaluated separately by all participants.

When USA Program receives these evaluations and school progress reports back at our main office, we will forward the information to the natural parents through our Home Country Representatives.

Open and honest communication is essential for the most successful experience.

“USA Program will make sure the intl. student is going in the right direction.”

WEST COAST

West Coast or Pacific Coast are terms for the western most coastal states of the United States. The term most often refers to the states of California, Oregon, and Washington. Although not part of the contiguous United States, Alaska and Hawaii do border the Pacific Ocean but can't be included in the West Coast. The U.S. Census groups the three states of California, Oregon, and Washington together as the Pacific region. As of 2008, the estimated population of the Census Bureau's Pacific Region was approximately 49 million - about 17% of US population. The estimated population of California, Oregon and Washington was 47 million. The region includes large cities such as Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, San Jose, Sacramento, Fresno, Long Beach and Oakland, California. Others include Portland, Oregon; and Seattle, Washington. The history of the West Coast begins with the arrival of the earliest known humans of the Americas, Paleo-Indians, crossing the Bering Strait from Eurasia into North America over a land bridge, Beringia, that existed between 45,000 BC and 12,000 BC (47,000–14,000 years ago). As a generalization, the climate of the West can be described as overall semiarid; however, parts of the West get extremely high amounts of rain and/or snow, and still other parts are true desert and get less than 5 inches of rain per year. Also, the climate of the West is quite unstable, and areas that are normally wet can be very dry for years and vice versa. Facing both the Pacific Ocean and the Mexican border, the West has been shaped by a variety of ethnic groups. Hawaii is the only state in the union in which Asian Americans outnumber white American residents. Asians from many countries have settled in California and other coastal states in several waves of immigration since the 19th century, contributing to the Gold Rush, the building of the transcontinental railroad, agriculture, and more recently, high technology.

Local Area

Sacramento is a medium-sized California city. It has a bunch of tall buildings, theaters, parking lots and a convention center downtown, with vast stretches of suburbia stretching East towards the Mountains. Situated 80 miles inland of San Francisco (the world's greatest tourist attraction), Sacramento is destined to feel like a second-rate tourist city. It is a city of state government & trees. I think it is great, because not only can you find everything you need, but we are nicely situated near the San Francisco bay area AND real wilderness. The population is listed on highway signs as 369,000 people, but I've always heard the neighborhoods nearby contribute another 600,000 to bring the total up to a million for the greater Sacramento area

King's Schools has a rich heritage that began in 1950 by Mike and Vivian Martin. Founded as a private Christian school for preschool through 12th grade in Shoreline in North Seattle, King's was originally called "King's Garden," a school rooted in weekly Bible studies and fellowship meetings in the Martin home. King's Garden quickly became more than a school, growing into a family of ministries that operated two Christian radio stations, a printing press, a missionary letter-writing service and a senior living home for senior citizens.

Education is never neutral, just as teachers never are. The curriculum and the teachers at Cedar Park Christian Schools are decidedly different from public schools in that Christian Truth is the basis of all courses. Cedar Park works at integrating Christian perspectives and philosophy into each course.
